THE KENTUCKY MINE. - By telegraphic instructions from San Francisco, Superintendent of the Kentucky has closed down the mine for the present, will be completed to-day, as the testimony for the defense will probably occupy a comparatively short time. If the be the case, the trial will be finished this week. Thus far the trial has progressed very expeditiously.

THE weather has been unusually warm for the season for the last three days, Everybody feels lazy and disinclined for exertion. The clouds occassionally gather and threaten a welcome shower but it comes not, and the streets are as dry as the throat of Billy Be-Dammed when he wakes up in the morning.

He [defendant] had do, the matter doesn't admit of a doubt, on the 27th of last month the jovial bachelor that we have known of yore, disappeared from our gaze, departed hence, and will be no more known among us. In the latter days of September, careful observers may discover, omerging from the back seat of the Salt Lake stage, a gentleman of austere demeanor (softened only by the presence of his charming bride), carefully attired in green silk umbrella and a duster, and bearing about him every evidence of the bearing about him every evidence of the family man. The Piocheans of early days, gazing curiously at him, will sak each other, "What manner of man is this?" And on being told that it is the Johnny they once knew, will indulge in a prolonged whistle of astonishment, and adjourn to the "Fashion" to take a drink. Well, peace to thy memory, bachelor John! If thy future is as happy as we wish it, the remembrance of the 27th of August will never bring with it a shadow of regret.
